

RODERICK IMPEY MURCHISON
1792-1871
and
ARCHIBALD GEIKIE
1835-1924

The Geological Survey of Scotland

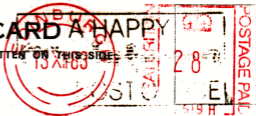

The young Archibald Geikie assisting Murchison in mapping parts of the Scottish Highlands.

Caricature by Prosper Mérimée drawn in 1860, reproduced with permission of the Trustees of the National Library of Scotland by courtesy of the Institute of Geological Sciences, Edinburgh.

Bx. 640-12 17.7.84

13/12/83

POST CARD A HAPPY
THE ADDRESS TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE

2 Dear Prof. Tikhomirov,

Many thanks for sending me a copy of The Story of the Geological Map. I thought that you might like to see this cartoon of Murchison with his protege A. Co. [unclear]. Geikie became the first Professor of Geology in Edinburgh University

Edinburgh Geological Society 1977

in 1871

With good wishes Gordon Craig

Уважаемый профессор В. ТИХОМИРОВ, ГЕОЛОГИЧЕСКИЙ ИНСТИТУТ,
АКАДЕМИИ НАУК СССР
ПЬИЗHEВСКИЙ пер. 7
МОСКВА 17
СССР.